

Software Asset Management

Application Metering

License Optimisation

The Challenge

Effective license management is more important today than ever and must not be left to chance.

Legal requirements of software vendors and stiff penalties can damage organisation's reputation and cause significant operational issues.

Effective SAM should be an integral part of an organisations processes and procedures, not least to mitigate the risk of audits but also to maximise the utilisation of licenses effectively.

DeskCenter's answer to this challenge is its Software Asset Management (SAM) - a powerful tool that allows you to regulate existing and future software quickly, easily and correctly.

Beyond the initial discovery and reconciliation, keeping your SAM activities current and up to date can be challenging. DeskCenter's fully integrated software presents opportunities to incorporate SAM processes into core business activities.

Powerful License Management

DeskCenter SAM Software Catalogue will make your license management more reliable. It increases transparency and legal certainty, protecting you from unknown risks and uncovering avoidable costs.

Gain transparency and control over your software assets.

- One of the largest and most effective product identification databases worldwide (over 100,000 products from 8500 manufacturers)
- Unique identification quality maintained within the database by software licensing specialists.
- A validated basis for ongoing Software Asset Management

Compliance

Meet compliance requirements with ease when using DeskCenter's SAM. It helps you to fulfil the compliance requirements of software manufacturers and to better manage your software assets.

Optimisation

Application Metering measures the actual use of the software and, in turn, cost effectiveness. Unused software is detected in real time providing you with measures to save on future license acquisitions.

Discovery

Identifying the devices on your network is a basic requirement of SAM. DeskCenter's discovery and inventory methods and processes provide the complete picture to base SAM activities on.

Minimise Risks, Maximise Efficiency

Core Functionality

Software Asset Management & License Management:

Software inventory provides an overview of all installed software and associated licenses. It also includes unlicensed software products. This data is the basis for a variety of processes and decisions. A compliance report is generated based on the present data of the identified software and its licenses.

License Management:

A single system to manage all of your software licenses and related documentation. Control licenses across your organisation, limiting license usage by location, department and cost centres. Extensive license models are supported from single user, OEM to managing processor value based license models.

Migration of Operating Systems & Software:

The result of software inventory may dictate and facilitate the plans for software migrations and rollouts. The product versioning is clearly identified to help with allocation of resources and

Key Features

- Central Software Asset Management with integrated administration and control
- Constant collection, administration and control of software inventory
- Ensure legal compliance
- Unique quality of detection
- Reduced legal risks from software vendors
- License optimisation
- Seamless integration into existing workflows
- Individual business software is recognition and regulation
- Identify & eliminate prohibited software

Keep SAM Active

Maintaining your compliance position can be a difficult task.

Using DeskCenter's fully integrated suite helps you maintain your License Compliance by incorporating SAM processes into business as usual activities.

Integrated process such as Service Desk and Software Deployment will ensure your investment

Market Leading Discovery

DeskCenter provides one of the most comprehensive discovery and inventory environments in the market.

With consistently higher than average discovery of both hardware and software and our unique software matching ensures the broadest coverage of your SAM activities.

DeskCenter[®] Solutions

DeskCenter Solutions UK
Hare Hatch Grange
Bath Road
Hare Hatch
RG10 9SA

Phone +44 (0) 1189 406 457
www.deskcenter.co.uk